Dear Friends

I am writing to thank you most warmly for your kind donation of £1,500.50 raised from the Morris Minor Rally earlier this year in support of the British Heart Foundation (BHF), the nation's heart charity. Your generosity will play a vital role in our fight against heart disease. Thank you very much for your kind donation, and thank you to everyone who took part in this event.

At the BHF we rely entirely on donations large and small from people like you, whose support enables us to carry out our life-saving work. By choosing to donate to us you are doing more than just giving to charity, you are saving lives. That's because our pioneering research is constantly exploring new ways to prevent heart disease and to provide treatment and care for people with failing hearts.

Donations to the BHF have already helped us to identify likely causes of heart disease, and supporters just like you have funded innovative solutions such as pacemakers, replacement heart valves and the recent advances in pre natal care, detecting heart problems in unborn babies.

You can help us to change the lives of people like Robert, whose potentially fatal heart condition left him in constant fear, unable to lead a normal life and struggling to get the help he needed. Thankfully, he had the support of BHF nurse Alex. 'When I had worries or problems Alex was constantly there to provide reassurance and care. Being able to contact her at any time was a lifeline.'

Heart disease is the nation's biggest killer, shattering thousands of lives all across the UK. Every penny we receive brings us closer to realising our vision of beating heart disease, and with your support the next big breakthrough could be just around the corner.

Yours sincerely
